Dear Community-Police Relations Foundation Team,

On behalf of Not On My Watch, Inc. (NOMW), I write with sincere gratitude and deep appreciation for the extraordinary partnership and unwavering support you continue to provide to our organization and the communities we serve.

NOMW works with youth at risk, families living below the poverty level, and young people who have experienced significant trauma and tragedy at far too young an age. Many of the children and families we support are navigating violence, exploitation, loss, and systemic inequities while still striving to move forward with strength and dignity. As a grassroots nonprofit, we are always mindful of the challenge of sustaining this work and the responsibility we carry to meet the needs of those who rely on us.

Because of the Community-Police Relations Foundation, we are able to do more than respond—we are able to truly support. Your generosity has allowed NOMW to address critical needs that would otherwise go unmet. Through your support, we have been able to provide direct grants to participants, supply dozens of graduating students with prom and graduation attire, and bring joy and relief to families during the holidays through toys and food. These moments are meaningful milestones for our youth and families, restoring confidence, pride, and hope.

CPR Foundation is far more than a funder to Not On My Watch—you are a genuine partner in our mission. At a time when funding is being reduced across the nonprofit sector, I am continually moved by your proactive outreach and willingness to ask how you can help. Those moments speak to a level of care, humanity, and commitment that is rare and deeply valued.

Your continued support has strengthened our Human Trafficking Awareness and prevention initiatives, expanded our community outreach efforts, and allowed us to celebrate our youth not only for surviving difficult circumstances, but for leading, growing, and thriving. CPR Foundation plays a major role in the work NOMW is able to accomplish, and the impact of your partnership is felt every day by the youth and families we serve.

Thank you for believing in our mission and for standing with us in this vital work. We are profoundly grateful for your support and look forward to continuing our collaboration in service of our community.

With sincere appreciation,
