

Community-Police Relations Foundation Record Retention and Destruction Policies

These policies cover all records regardless of physical form or characteristics which have been made or received by Community-Police Relations Foundation (CPR Foundation) while doing business.

I. Purpose of policies

These policies provide for the systematic review, retention and destruction of records received or created by CPR Foundation in connection with the transaction of business. These policies cover all records, regardless of physical form, contain guidelines for how long certain records should be kept and how records should be destroyed.

These policies are designed to ensure compliance with federal and state laws and regulations, to eliminate accidental or innocent destruction of records and to facilitate CPR Foundation's operations by promoting efficiency and freeing up valuable storage space. Included in the federal laws necessitating compliance with these policies is the Sarbanes-Oxley Act ("The American Competitiveness and Corporate Accountability Act of 2002"), which makes it a crime to alter, cover up, falsify, or destroy.

These policies are designed to ensure compliance with federal and state laws and regulations, to eliminate accidental or innocent destruction of records and to facilitate CPR Foundation's operations by promoting efficiency and freeing up valuable storage space. Included in the federal laws necessitating compliance with these policies is the Sarbanes-Oxley Act ("The American Competitiveness and Corporate Accountability Act of 2002"), which makes it a crime to alter, cover up, falsify, or destroy any document with the intent of impeding or obstructing any official proceeding.

II. Records Covered

These policies apply to all records in any form, including electronic documents. A record is any material that contains information about CPR Foundation's plans, results, policies or performance. Anything that can be represented with words or numbers is a business record for the purposes of these policies. Electronic documents must be retained as if they were paper documents. Therefore, any electronic files, including information received online, that fall into one of the document types on the schedule must be maintained for the appropriate amount of time. For example, if a user has sufficient reason to keep an email message, the message should be printed in hard copy and kept in the appropriate file or moved to an "archive" computer file folder. Backup and recovery methods will be tested on a regular basis.

III. Record Retention

CPR Foundation follows the document retention procedures outlined below. Documents that are not listed but are substantially similar to those listed in the schedule will be retained for the appropriate length of time.

A. Permanent Retention Permanent

Permanent records are records required by law to be permanently retained and which are ineligible for destruction at any time for any reason. These records are necessary for the continuity of business and the protection of the rights and interests of the organization and of individuals. These include records such as organizational documents (Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws), Board minutes and policies, federal and state tax exempt status and independent audits.

No record, whether or not referenced, may be destroyed if in any way the records refer to, concern, arise out of or in any other way are involved in pending or threatened litigation.

While the listings below contain commonly recognized categories of records, the list should not be considered as having identified all records that [Nonprofit name] may need to consider for permanent and non-permanent status. In particular, and as noted above, any documents that are, or may be involved in pending or threatened litigation, must be retained. The nonprofit's legal counsel should be asked to assist in determining what records must be retained.

IV. Emergency Planning

CPR Foundation's records will be stored in a safe, secure and accessible manner. All documents and financial files that are essential to keeping CPR Foundation's operating in an emergency will be duplicated or backed up at least every week and maintained off site. All other documents and financial files will be duplicated or backed up periodically as identified by the Chief Financial Officer or other person as designated by the Chief Professional Officer and maintained off-site.

VI. Document Destruction

CPR Foundation's Chief Financial Officer or other representative as designated by the Chief Professional Officer is responsible for the ongoing process of identifying its records which have met the required retention period and overseeing their destruction. Destruction of financial and personnel-related documents will be accomplished by shredding. Document destruction will be suspended immediately, upon any indication of an official investigation or when a lawsuit is filed or appears imminent. Destruction will be reinstated upon conclusion of the investigation or claim, whichever is latest.

VII. Compliance

Failure on the part of employees to follow this policy can result in possible civil and criminal sanctions against CPR Foundation and its employees and possible disciplinary action against responsible individuals. The Chief Financial Officer or individual designated by the Chief Professional Officer and Finance Committee chair will periodically review these procedures with legal counsel or the organization's certified public accountant to ensure that they are in compliance with new or revised regulations. Questions concerning these policies, the applicability of certain records to the retention or destruction policies, must be addressed to the Chief Financial Officer or other individual as designated by the Chief Professional Officer.
